MRS. HAROLD C. JORDON, co-chairman of the annual "Festival of Nations" to be sponsored Wednesday by the Reading Young Women's Christian Assn., presents a national YWCA Fellowship Week proclamation to Mayor Eugene L. Shirk in his office at City Hall. Fellowship Week will be observed this week. Looking on are, from left: Mrs. Ralph K. Miller, festival co-chairman; Mrs. R. Solomon Bear, YW board president, and Harriett C. Larrabee, YW executive director. The festival will be held from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the YW quarters, 8th and Washington streets. Proceeds will aid needy YWCAs throughout the world.—Eagle Photo.

DEAR MRS. POST

The R

Dear Mrs. Post: When parents and accompany their children to me a way to avoid the embarrassment by the step-child's name? How s introduce their stepfather without e fact he is not their father by name? My husband refuses to attend most school functions, and I believe I've determined the root of the problem. The children and I would greatly appreciate the benefit of your assistance. — "Grateful Mom"

Dear "Grateful Mom:" There is nothing whatsoever wrong with correcting a person who calls you by an incorrect name. First, your child should be taught to introduce as "my stepfather, Mr. Jones." By t voice she can imply every bit as as if he were her father. There is that teachers who do not have acces records can be expected to know th tionship.

* * * *

Dear Mrs. Post: We have one would be happy with a couple of but have not been blessed with ther stantly given advice by our friends she should have some brothers or should not wait too long to have never know what to reply to them care to explain that we are trying, h ing for more family. Please give me how to answer these questions with ment to them and to us.—Mrs. K.

Dear Mrs. K.: It is inexcusabl personal questions of the kind

Here Are 'Hey Tos' | Holiday Plans | A Woman's New York | Women'